

SUMMER FESTIVALS

Theater

Jay Yamada

“Titus Andronicus” at California Shakespeare.

By STEVEN McELROY

Published: May 17, 2012

New York City

SOLONOVA ARTS FESTIVAL, May 29-June 17. In “unFramed” the poet and painter Iyaba Ibo Mandingo, born in Antigua, tells the story of his move to America as a child and his subsequent struggles — including nearly being deported after Sept. 11 — while painting a self-portrait. “unFramed” is one of 10 shows in this diverse celebration of solo performance; (212) 352-3101, terranovacollective.org.

All performances are at the New Ohio Theater, 154 Christopher Street, Manhattan

Monday, June 4 at 7:00 pm
Saturday, June 9 at 7:00 pm
Sunday, June 10 at 4:00 pm
Wednesday, June 13 at 7:00 pm
Saturday, June 16 at 9:00 pm

Tickets are $20 and available at <http://bit.ly/unFRAMEDtixatSOLONOVA>